

QUOTE OF THE WEEK

BOB DYLAN QUOTES 2

“We don't see the people that vice destroys. We just see the glamour of it - everywhere we look, from billboard signs to movies, to newspapers, to magazines. We see the destruction of human life.”

-- Bob Dylan

“People's lives are filled with vice and the trappings of it. Ambition, greed and selfishness all have to do with vice. Sooner or later, you have to see through it or you don't survive.”

-- Bob Dylan

“I can picture the color of the song, or the shape of it, or who it is that I'm trying to appeal to, in the song, and what I'm trying to, almost, reinforce my feelings for. And I know that sounds sort of vague and abstract, but I've got a handle on it when I'm doing it.”

-- Bob Dylan

“I accept chaos. I am not sure whether it accepts me. I know some people are terrified of the bomb. But then some people are terrified to be seen carrying a modern screen magazine. Experience teaches us that silence terrifies people the most.”

-- Bob Dylan

“they say every man needs protection, they say every man must fall. yet I swear I see my reflection, some place high above this wall.....and someday I shall be released.”

-- Bob Dylan
